This week the homework books will not be going out as we are instead asking the children to make boats for our science experiment on Thursday 5th July. You may use whatever junk modelling materials you have available at home to build a boat which the children will use for our floating and sinking experiment.

Please be as creative as possible and prepare your child for the possibility that their boat might sink, but that it is OK if this happens.

We will take photos of their boat beforehand as it may not survive! Please ensure the boat will sit comfortably on a sheet of A4 paper (no bigger) as our sea is quite small.

Many thanks

Mrs Perry & Miss Holme
